

16th Congress of the Russian Entomological Society Moscow, August 22–26, 2022

The Second Information Letter

Dear Colleagues,

The preliminary registration of the participants of the 16th Congress of the Russian Entomological Society is over. More than 500 applications have been submitted, on the basis of which we have prepared the following preliminary composition of the sections.

You may now submit your abstract, which has to be submitted by March 1, 2022. If you did not have time to register during the preliminary registration, this can be done at any time before the deadline of the abstract submission.

Publication of abstracts and materials of the congress

Abstracts should be submitted on the Lomonosov portal (lomonosov-msu.ru/rus/event/6323) by filling in the online form and uploading the abstract text (which should contain at most 2000 characters, including spaces).

The authors should indicate their preferred form of participation (talk, poster, participation as a listener without a presentation). The organizing committee reserves the right to edit the submitted abstracts, including their titles, as well as to reject abstracts that do not comply with the subject or level of the congress. The program committee will consider only those abstracts the main author of which (the prospective presenter) will timely pay the registration fee.

Abstracts and registration fee will be accepted until March 1, 2022. The program of the congress will be published on the Internet by May 15, 2022. The abstract book will be published in electronic form and on paper by the opening of the congress. After the congress, it is planned to publish the materials of selected talks in an expanded form in the Russian-language journal Entomologicheskoe Obozrenie and its English-language version Entomological Review.
